This month we will be celebrating First Holy Communion at each of our churches. What a blessing it is to witness so many of our children approaching the altar to receive Our Lord in the Most Holy Eucharist for the very first time. I want to thank Laura Spaugh, Haley Metzger and all of the catechists, parents, godparents, and anyone I might have missed, who helped these children prepare to receive the Eucharist. Through your guidance and example, they have come to understand that in Holy Communion they receive not a symbol, but Jesus Christ Himself. The true Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus and it will ensure that they understand the solemn mystery and receive it with great reverence and gratitude. I pray that this day is a transformative spiritual event for them.

Amen? Amen.

PASTOR'S RAMBLINGS | 5

A heartfelt thank you to everyone who helped make our Triduum and Easter liturgies so beautiful and prayerful. We are especially grateful to Haley Metzger and her team for their dedication in preparing and guiding our catechumens and candidates as they entered into full communion with the Church at the Easter Vigil. Thank you as well to the sponsors who walked alongside them with such faithful support. We are deeply appreciative of our Worship Commission members and all the volunteers who gave their time and presence at each Triduum liturgy, your commitment made these sacred celebrations possible. A special thank you to Deb Garvey and Claire Schneider, our head sacristans at St. Cecilia and St. Mary. Your attention to every detail and the countless hours you devote behind the scenes do not go unnoticed. Finally, we offer sincere thanks to Danny Miller and Helen Davis for their extra efforts this year at The Oratory. With the ongoing renovations, your hard work ensured that our liturgies were still carried out with beauty and reverence. We are truly blessed by such a generous and faithful community.

Because of You

Two weekends ago, many came. Some for the first time in years. Some, unsure of what they would find. Some simply taking a step they didn't expect to take. And when they arrived, they were welcomed. They found a place to sit. A place to pray. A place to begin again. They heard the Word proclaimed. They came to the altar, where Christ gives Himself to us in the Eucharist. And there—often quietly, often gradually—something begins to change. Just as the disciples on the road to Emmaus came to recognize the Risen Lord in the breaking of the bread, many are beginning to recognize His presence again. This does not happen on its own. It happens because a community is present. Because people show up. Because people give—not out of obligation, but as a response to what they have received. Because of you.

For the Pascal Triduum and Easter, The Oratory saw 463 people come to Masses (average weekend attendance is 290), at St. Mary, 1,879 people attended (average weekend attendance is 1,100), and St. Cecilia saw 1,929 in the pews (with 1,400 as the weekend average)

If this place has been meaningful to you—even in a quiet or unexpected way—this may be your next step. Stay. Come back next Sunday. And, when you are ready, consider helping make this possible for someone else.
